SICKENING CARNAGE IN WARSAW STREETS

Over a Hundred Slain by Cossacks and Soldiers Yesterday.

Much of the Slaughter Was Unprovoked---Another
General Strike Feared.

Warsaw, May 2.—Another general strike will probably be the outcome of yesterday's firing on the people by the troops.

Workingmen are making a great effort to take advantage of the angry populace aroused by the bloodshed and inaugurate another season of strike and disorder.

Fears are expressed that the clashes yesterday were only the beginning and that there will be further disorder.

Nearly one hundred persons were killed or wounded in disturbances in various quarters of Warsaw yesterday. Troops apparently were uncontrollable and violated all orders to act with moderation. Many women and children are among the dead and dying. What approaches a reign of terror exists; the city presents a most gloomy aspect and the temper of the community augurs ill.

May day opened with every prospect that the recent gloomy forebodings were to find contradiction in a peaceful ending. The streets were crowded from early morning with gaily dressed people and troops. Children everywhere enjoyed themselves in the warm sunshine.

No untoward incident was reported until afternoon. The first disturbances occurred between one and two o'clock, when a procession of several thousand workmen carrying red flags marched along Zelazna street.

The demonstration was quite orderly and proceeded without molestation for some distance. Suddenly several squadrons of Uhlans appeared but without interfering with the procession and took up a position along the sidewalks while workmen passed through the lines. Then a company of infantry approached from the front and immediately the cavalry charged into the procession driving it with the flat of their swords into a disorganized mass. When the cavalry withdrew the infantry fired a volley whereupon the demonstrators turned and fled. The infantry continued to discharge volleys into the retreating shrieking multitude. Thirty-one persons were killed and many wounded, and of the latter it is believed fifteen will die.

The shooting is described as having been quite unprovoked. It has aroused most intense indignation among all classes in Warsaw. Many of those who were killed and wounded were shot in the back, showing they were running away when they were struck.

Another terrible scene was enacted at 5 p. m., at the corner of Ziota and Sosnowe streets, when the workmen fired from behind a wall at a patrol, which immediately opened fire on the passing crowds, killing or wounding twenty persons.

The first bomb throwing occurred at 9:45 last night, when a bomb was thrown into a Cossack patrol near Vienna station.

Three Cossacks and one policeman were killed and two women leaving the station at the time were severely wounded. Cossacks and infantry fired a number of volleys and it is reported many persons were killed or wounded.

At 10:45 p. m. disturbances broke out at the Zembrowska gate of the suburb Praga, across the Vistula river. A great crowd had assembled there, threatening the troops, when Hussars fired upon the crowd and killed four and wounded many.

It was reported by telephone from Lodz, whereupon the soldiers fired and killed two men and wounded a boy. Later a similar scene occurred in Balucki square, in Lodz, when two persons were killed.

In Lodz at nine last night a bomb was thrown at a patrol, but it was not effective. The patrol fired into a crowd and killed three and wounded two. A student who was distributing proclamations in Wola, a suburb of Warsaw, tonight, was killed by a patrol.

In Nawrot street, Warsaw, last night a patrol killed a woman.

The temper of the people is at white heat and there is much apprehension regarding possible events of May 5th, the 114th anniversary of the proclamation of the Polish constitution, when disturbances and demonstrations always occur.

Yelled "Down with Autocracy."

Baku, Russia, May 2.—A panic occurred in the Cathedral yesterday during the service attended by the governor general. In the midst of the service some one shouted "Down

VICTORY AT YALU CELEBRATED

New York, May 2.—Korekiyo Takahashi, the financial agent of Japanese government who arrived from London after negotiating the recent Japanese war loan, said that Togo would not offer battle to the Russian fleet because he had too much at stake and was not willing to risk all on first throw of the dice.

300,000 Japanese Casualties.

Tokio, May 2.—The number of our countrymen killed or who have died of disease during the war is 30,000; the number of wounded and sick is 200,000 to 300,000.

"Be prepared for a long war; nothing can shake Japan's resolution to carry on the struggle. But the nation must continue to be economical and frugal."

So said Count Okuma, former foreign minister and leader of the progressive party, addressing the party's committee to succor the wounded.

Count Okuma criticised the national diplomacy, saying that efficient and timely diplomacy could have prevented Rojestvensky's fleet from coming to the far east.

Yalu Victory Celebrated.

Headquarters Kuroki's Army, via Fusan, May 2.—The anniversary of the battle of Yalu was celebrated by Kuroki's army yesterday with spectacular feasts.

Stephens Astor, a white tramp claiming to be from Memphis, is under arrest here charged with a breach of the peace, but if he keeps up the kind of talk he made before Justice Jesse Young, he may go to the asylum instead of jail.

Astor seemed to be tramping about the county. Going to the residence of Mrs. Dolly Hays, not far from Woodville, he asked for something to eat yesterday afternoon. She had nothing to give, but this did not satisfy Astor, who abused her and then asked for clothes. She also refused him clothes and Astor becoming enraged pulled out a knife or razor and made for Mrs. Hays, saying he guessed he would kill her.

Mrs. Hays fled, and meeting her husband in the field informed him of the tramp's actions. Mr. Hays started out after Astor and succeeded in overtaking him near Woodville. He compelled the tramp to come with him to town where he secured a warrant this morning before Justice Young against Astor.

When brought into court Astor explained that he was from Memphis and boasted that the "expert philosopher" had taken his brains out in the asylum in Tennessee where he had spent one year, and had tried in many ways to deprive him of his intellect, but had not succeeded. He moreover stated that they acted disgracefully with him, and after taking out his brains were not even so considerate as to place them back, in fact, he had to do so himself when he came to.

Justice Young has set his case for trial tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock when Mrs. Hays can appear in court. It is thought the man was a lunatic and in the asylum, and has grown worse since released.

LOCATED FRIENDS OF DROWNED MAN

His Name is Herald, of St. Joseph, Mo.

Supposed He Fell From the Excursion Boat—His Watch Pawned in a Saloon Here.

BODY SENT TO ST. LOUIS

The death of the man supposed to be F. J. Herald, of St. Joseph, Mo., is still shrouded in mystery. The only plausible theory seems to be that he left Paducah on the excursion steamer "J. S." Sunday morning, and fell overboard between Paducah and Joppha on the return trip.

Herald, or J. D. Meyer, as he registered at the New Richmond hotel here, had been drinking, and "soaked" his watch in the New Richmond bar. It is worth only a few dollars, and is still there.

He occupied his room at the hotel Saturday night, but was not seen by the hotel clerk after 9:30 o'clock that night. It is believed that he left on the boat for Cairo, and fell or jumped off coming back, but one peculiar thing is how he could have been immersed in the water at all and the papers in his pocket not be thoroughly soaked. As a matter of fact, however, some of them were hardly damp.

Today's Cairo Bulletin says of the case:

"Peculiar circumstances surround the finding of the body and, from statements made by the man while in Paducah, a theory of suicide is being entertained by some. Meyer stated to several of the people with whom he came in contact at the New Richmond hotel that he had been drunk at Evansville for two weeks, that he had come to Paducah to get away from the people with whom he had been associating there and try to get sober and that he did not know what he would do if he did not get away from his bad habits.

"The general theory regarding his death though, is that he had gone on the excursion to Cairo and that on the return trip had resumed his orgies and while in drunken condition had fallen overboard. The fact that he was last seen Saturday night at the hotel and that at that time he was retiring connected with the finding of letters in his pocket which had not been soaked through by the water, showing that his body had not been in the water but a short time goes to prove that statement."

The identity of the man has been established beyond a doubt. He is F. J. Herald, of St. Joe, Mo., and was traveling representative for the J. J. Weidman Cigar Box Co., of St. Louis, Mo. He was married and leaves a wife and two children.

The authorities at Metropolis were unable to get a telegram to relatives in St. Joe because they didn't know the number of his house, but the firm of Weidman was telephoned and gave the desired information and wired to ship the body to St. Louis where it will be forwarded to St. Joe by the firm.

An inquest was held yesterday and the verdict of the coroner's jury was that he met death by drowning. The remains will be shipped to St. Louis tonight.

ALMOST LYNCHED

UNION CITY HAD A LIVELY TIME LAST NIGHT.

Three Officers Wounded By Negroes While Raiding a Dive.

A lynching was narrowly averted at Union City, Tenn., last night.

Chief of Police Frank Pardue and Officers Fonzo White and Tom Brown made a raid on a negro dive in the afternoon and all three of them were shot, but not badly hurt.

Six of the negroes got away and four were caught. There was a large crowd in town, and hundreds of people became almost frenzied when they saw the wounded officers.

An onslaught was made on "Nigger Row" and some of the houses were demolished and some of the dives divested of fixtures, stock and everything else. Several other houses suffered and several negro families were ordered to leave town and left.

A rush correction by wire is this morning changing the date to May 10.

GUARDS ARE ARMED AND READY TO SHOOT

Bloody Scenes Mark the Progress of Chicago's Big Strike.

Many Shot and Clubbed---Both Sides Say the Fight Will be to the Bitter End as long as the weapons are not concealed.

"There is a law against shooting within the city limits, and also a law against brandishing a weapon in a threatening manner. Both of these will be strictly enforced by the police," said O'Neill.

"I disapprove of the arming of those engaged in the strike and so far as my influence goes I will discourage it."

There was a report that Mayor Dunne was about to force an adjustment of the trouble but this he declared was incorrect. He said he has no power to compel a settlement.

Four men were seriously hurt during yesterday's fights. The number actually injured is greatly in excess of this but it is impossible to state accurately for, reason that many of those hurt disappeared in the crowd or are carried away by their friends as soon as possible after being injured.

Police Sergeant Cummings, who was run down on Thursday by an omnibus driven by John Ceresa, a union driver is dead. Ceresa is held to await action of the grand jury.

A mob of two thousand last night attacked sixteen non-union men being taken to the depot under police guard. Several non-union men were injured, and many of the mob were clubbed and arrested by the police.

At Twenty-second and State streets drivers of four coal wagons under guard of eight private detectives were pelted with stones thrown from the second story of a building which they were passing. Detectives, drawing revolvers, charged into the place. Innates fled and no shots were fired. A riot call brought the police to the scene and the crowd was dispersed. Detectives were arrested for carrying concealed weapons.

Toughest of the Tough.

Detroit, May 2.—About a hundred of the toughest boarders from the toughest river boarding houses were rounded up last night and taken to Chicago to be used as strike breakers.

Chief O'Neill, however, declared that if the employers armed their men police cannot legally interfere.

CURT JETT

Was Taken to Lexington Today to Testify in Hargis Case.

Lexington, Ky., May 2.—Curt Jett and Tom White, serving life sentences for murder, were brought here from Frankfort to testify for the Commonwealth in the Hargis case. Jett was called first and testified that he had nothing to do with killing Cockrell, but refused to say whether he was in the second story of the Hargis store after the assassination, as it might tend to incriminate him.

MAY 9

A Democratic Committee Meeting Will Be Held.

Louisville, Ky., May 2.—A meeting of the Democratic state central committee was yesterday called for Frankfort May 10. Today the fact was remembered that May 10 will be Derby day and that it would be impossible to get even the governor himself to be in Frankfort then.

A rush correction by wire is this morning changing the date to May 10.

TO OPEN HOSPITAL ABOUT JUNE 20TH

If the Present Plans of Board are Carried Out.

Members Are Elated Over the Action of the Council in Regard to Furnishing Building.

TO OPEN BIDS SATURDAY.

The board of directors of Riverside hospital are jubilant over the action of the council last night in ordering money borrowed to be used in equipping the hospital, and do not anticipate any trouble in the upper board in securing the same action.

"We are glad that the council seems to feel as we do," one member of the board stated this morning, "and want to see the hospital in service. It is undoubtedly the finest hospital in this section of the state, and as fine as can be found south of the Ohio river, and that is saying a great deal. We can furnish it elegantly with the money asked for and the furnishing will be substantial and lasting. We do not want cheap furniture, but believe the best is the cheapest in the long run."

The board will meet Saturday to open bids which are coming in fast from all furnishing houses. The board of aldermen will by this time have passed on the matter and all will be in readiness to award the contract.

"If everything goes through like we anticipate it will," a member declared this morning, "the hospital will be ready for service by June 20."

DREW A "RAZZOR"

WHEN MOTORMAN GREENLEA
TRIED TO PUT HIM OFF.

Negro Cuts at Motorman and is Shot at Several Times in Return For Such Actions.

Motorman Clarence Greenlea, of the depot line, has had his share of the strenuous life lately, but is no "quitter."

Several weeks ago while running on South Sixth street, a wire broke and entwined itself about the car. Mr. Greenlea was unable for sometime to get off for fear of coming in contact with it, but finally succeeded in extricating himself, without injury.

Last night a large black negro boarded his car and refused to pay the fare. Motorman Greenlea was without a conductor, being at 12th and Madison streets, and started to put the negro off. Mr. Negro did not desire to be put off and drew a large razor which he flourished about in a threatening manner.

Motorman Greenlea was not to be outdone, and immediately began shedding the gloves which are worn as protection from the current. Before he could get his gloves off the negro had slashed at him with the weapon. Greenlea dodged and the blade cut a large slit in his uniform cap. The cap being stiff, and the high crown, probably saved him from being badly cut.

By this time Greenlea secured his pistol and went after his antagonist in earnest. He shot once or twice and by the time the smoke cleared the negro had disappeared.

The affair was over in a few minutes, but attracted a great deal of attention. A good description of the negro has been secured and the police will attempt to locate him.

Tobacco Men Organize.

Madisonville, Ky., May 2.—A big meeting of Hopkins county tobacco growers was held in this city Saturday afternoon and preparations were made for the farmers of the county to get together in an organization to protect themselves against the tobacco trust. This was only an informal meeting. The final meeting will be held here next Saturday, when the organization will be perfected, and leading speakers of the state will be present to address them. The principal speaker of the afternoon will be Hon. A. O. Stanley of Henderson, Congressman from this, the Second district, who has had much to do with putting the tobacco growers' organization on foot.

Court at Hickman.

Hickman, Ky., May 2.—The May term of circuit court is in session at Hickman with Judge R. J. Bugg presiding. The case of the Commonwealth vs Dr. R. N. Whitehead, charged with involuntary manslaughter, will come up today.

Masons and V. M. C. A.

Madisonville, Ky., May 2—A movement is now on foot among the Masons of this city to add about $10,000 to the $17,000 to be used for the erection of a Young Men's Christian Association building in this city this summer, and have a Masonic Temple added as a third story to the Y. M. C. A. building. This will make the building cost in the neighborhood of $30,000. The Masons of the city generally favor the proposition and it is almost assured.

Shot Railroad Detective.

Ashland, Ky., May 2.—Strother Mays, an N. & W. detective, in attempting to arrest two tramps who "hoboed" their way to Kenova, was shot three times. Mays saw the men get off the train, and demanded a surrender. The smaller one, a negro, pulled a revolver and fired three times at Mays, one ball taking effect in the groin, the other two entering the body through the right side. The tramps escaped. Bloodhounds were at once secured, but the men have not been captured. Dr. York, who attended the wounded man, states that his wounds are of very serious nature.

Burglary at Marion.

Marion, Ky., May 2.—The dry goods store of the Yandell-Guggerheim company was broken into by burglars. Night Watchman Gregory discovered the robbers making their escape from a back window and Geo. Adams, a son of J. W. Adams, a prominent citizen of this city, has been arrested charged with the offense. Two others made their escape. The amount stolen is not known.

Small Docket This Time.

Madisonville, Ky., May 2.—The May term of the Hopkins county circuit court convened in this city with Judge J. F. Gordon on the bench and Commonwealth's Attorney John L. Grayson present. Owing to the four week's special term in January and February, the docket is smaller than usual for this time, but it is thought almost the entire four weeks allowed will be consumed.

BURNED CHICKENS.

Eloue and All—Detectives Summoned to Coon Station.

Mr. Joe Parker, of Boaz Station, thinks someone did him a very mean trick, and if there is any way possible to learn who it was he will prosecute him to the full extent of the law.

This morning about 2 o'clock his chicken house, a large one, well filled with chickens, was discovered on fire, and the flames had gained too great a headway to save it. The result was the entire loss of both house and chickens and as there had been no fire left about the place, the owner naturally turned towards the theory of incendiarism.

Detectives Moore and Baker, of the city, were sent down to look into the matter on the earnest solicitations of Mr. Parker, and will attempt to find out who set fire to the barn. The loss will amount to comparative little to Mr. Parker, but he is intent to learn who set fire to his fowl house.

MORE STUPID DELAY.
The city's idea about an electrical inspector is harmless but foolish. The insurance trust has laid down certain written rules for wiring. These rules are strict, and every once and a while the trust sends an expert around to inspect the wiring and ascertain if it has been done in accordance with the rules.

It has been charged that the inspectors do not always agree among themselves, and one will accept one class of wiring that another comes along and rejects. The companies deny this, and say that no instance can be cited in Paducah of where wiring accepted by the first inspector was rejected by the second.

But that is immaterial. If Paducah had a wire inspector, he could obtain a copy of the rules regarding wiring from any agent, and learn them. Every new building erected he could see was wired according to those rules. If it was there would be no cause for complaint. If it were not, the trust would likely in time send a man around and he would find it out.

It is very stupid, therefore, to further delay the appointment of a wire inspector.

The insurance companies will not "recognize inspections" made by the city's inspector unless they are right. They will agree to accept nothing that does not conform to the rules.

They send around their own inspectors everywhere and if the local inspector has done his work well and seen that all wiring is in accordance with the underwriters' rules, the insurance trust's expert inspector finds everything all right. Suppose such an inspector should come here, however, and find that the local inspector had been neglecting his work and letting bad wiring be put in?

Does the council think the insurance companies are going to pledge themselves to accept the work of a local inspector as final unless he has performed it well? Certainly not.

The thing to do is to appoint that inspector, and stop delaying such an important matter by such foolish proceedings as that of asking the insurance trust if it will accept the work of a local inspector. It will accept the work if it is in accordance with rules, and reject it if it is not, so there's no use asking anything about it.

This is all that any reasonable person should expect of the insurance companies. If the city's inspector does his work well, it will be accepted. If he does not, the city should not want it accepted. To ask the insurance companies to agree beforehand, however, to accept it, good or bad, is a little too much, and is probably only another dodge to further delay the matter.

The administration has at last given City Clerk Henry Bailey an assistant in getting out the tax lists. He should have had one last year. His predecessor had no trouble getting an assistant at the expense of the city, when he wanted one, but Clerk Bailey has done all the work himself since he has been in office, and has done it well. There must be three copies of each tax bill made out and the clerk has to make several thousand of them, in addition to performing his regular duties.

We have all heard of blessings in disguise. Perhaps Dr. Oster's recent statement about chloroforming men after 60, which raised such a hubbub all over the world, was blessing in disguise, as Mr. Carnegie has just turned over ten millions to keep college professors from having to be "Osterized."

The council appropriated $300 last night for the entertainment of the rivers and harbors committee during its stay here. This is most gratifying, and shows the council fully appreciated the necessity for it. We want to show the visitors that we are true Kentuckians.

They saw the handwriting on the wall, and decided to furnish that hospital. That's business. If the city can borrow money illegally for one purpose, it can borrow it illegally for another.

WARRANT ISSUED

FOR ARREST OF FORMER CAIRO SALOON MAN FOR MURDER.

Ab Douglas Alleged to Know Something About Assassination of Will Parr at Cairo.

Cairo, Ill., May 2.—Ed Maley, proprietor of Maley's K. C. restaurant, has sworn out a warrant for the arrest of Ab Douglas, erstwhile proprietor of the Kentucky house, on a charge of having murdered his bartender, Wm. Parr, on the night of April 14.

Parr was asleep in a chair behind the second partition in the barroom when the assassin crept up behind him to within a few feet of where he sat and fired a bullet from a thirty-eight caliber revolver directly through his head, killing him instantly. At the time when the murderer was committed a negro was arrested and charged with having fired the shot which killed Parr, but was later released.

Maley says that he can prove that Douglas fired the shot. Maley says that a short time before the murder was committed Douglas and Parr had some trouble over the fact that the bartender had bodily ejected one of the women of ill repute who was stopping in the house and to whom Douglas had been paying considerable attention. At the time when the trouble occurred the two men came near to blows and several threats were made by Douglas.

Maley says further that he is positive that Douglas is the man who killed Jesse Zook in the Big Four freight yards some months ago, despite the fact that the crime has been fastened on a negro and that he is now doing time for it. In this respect Mr. Maley may be wrong, for although the negro made no confession yet a white woman with whom he had been living testified beyond a doubt that he was the guilty man.

Douglas is now supposed to be in Marion, Ill., having sold out his business here a few days after the murder of Parr.

THE STREET WORK WILL NOW PROCEED

Bids Will Now be Advertised for by Board of Works.

It Is Probable Brick Will Not Be Adopted for the Other Street Reconstruction Here.

THE BOARD MEETS TOMORROW

The prospect is now good for much street reconstruction this summer in Paducah.

The ordinances for paving Kentucky avenue and Jefferson street and the cross streets to Ninth, have now been finally passed and are ready for the mayor's signature, and the board of works will tomorrow advertise for bids for "doing the work." Just as soon as possible the board will let the contract.

Tomorrow night at the regular meeting of the board the brick to be used in paving Third street will be selected. It is not known what kind will be chosen. The board of works is not very favorable to any kind of brick streets, as they claim brick is noisy, unsanitary, hard on horses' feet, and wears easily. The only thing in favor of a brick street, one member said today, is that it is easily repaired. Otherwise brick streets are not to be compared to asphalt or bituminous macadam, and many cities, including Memphis, are tearing up brick streets to put down bituminous or asphalt streets.

Third street will be paved with brick, however, because it has already been ordered paved with brick. The board of works will tomorrow select the kind of brick.

Today notice will be served on all property owners on South Third street to Broad, to put down new water, gas and other pipes before the new streets are built, as the streets cannot be torn up for five years after being paved.

The board of works is now contemplating buying a "scarifier" for use in connection with the street roller.

The streets that are to be rolled are first torn up. There are two rather primitive ways adopted to do this, one by putting spikes in the roller and the other by chaining a big plow to the roller and plowing up the street. The board will decide on buying it at tomorrow's meeting.

The contrivance now offered the city is called a "porcupine scarifier" and costs about $600. It is attached to the roller and is claimed that much time and expense are saved by its use, as it has a "new-fangled, up-to-date scientific way" of tearing up a street that is entirely missing in the methods now in use.

STRIKE ON.

Carpenters at Cairo, Illinois, Quit Work.

Cairo, Ill., May 2.—The union carpenters of the city have declared the strike which has been pending for some time, and if what both the carpenters and contractors say proves true the sound of the hammer and saw will not be heard in Cairo for some time to come.

The carpenters ask that they be given the same wages they are receiving now for nine hours' work for an eight hour day. The contractors have made them several propositions among which is one to pay them an extra hour's wages for the nine hour-day instead of the same wages for a shorter day, but the plan did not meet with the approval of the union. The contractors also offered to let them work eight hours each day at a decrease in pay of one hour, but this the men disapproved of and as a result all work on frame buildings in the city is now at a standstill.

$33,000 LIABILITIES

And About $20,000 Assets in the Hessig Case.

A schedule of liabilities and assets was filed today in the H. T. Hessig case, resulting in Referee Bagby declaring him a bankrupt.

The liabilities will amount to $33,000, $13,000 of which are lien debts on property. The assets will amount to about $20,000. Referee Bagby will file his report of action with Judge Evans who will confirm it, it is presumed, and refer it again for purpose of winding up the estate.

—Mr. Liston Cross, of the Palmer Transfer Co., has resigned, leaving the employ of the company last night. His place has not been filled yet. He will probably enter the railroad service.

CAPT. J. J. GOODWIN DIED LAST NIGHT

The End Came Peacefully in Marine Hospital at Cairo.

The Deceased Had Lived in Paducah Twelve Years, and Was a Popular and Respected Man.

BURIAL AT HARRISBURG, ILL.

Capt. John J. Goodwin, one of Paducah's best known and most popular river men, died last night about 10 o'clock in the marine hospital at Cairo, Ill., where he had been for six weeks suffering from a complication of diseases.

Capt. Goodwin's death came as a great shock to his hundreds of friends, as they did not know that his condition was serious. His wife and unmarried daughter, Miss Leila Goodwin, had been with him for some time.

Capt. Goodwin was born in Leavenworth, Kansas, and was about 62 years old. He lived for a number of years in Cave-in-Rock, Ill., and Evansville, Ind., and was in business in both places. He came to Paducah to live twelve years ago, and brought here the I. N. Hook, on which he was master, and still one of the best known towboats in these waters.

A Charming Recital.

A large and appreciative audience was present at Miss Frances Herndon's recital at the Kentucky theatre last evening. The program was an unusually attractive one and was successful in every detail. Miss Herndon's readings were selected with an eye to that dramatic effect that is an essential in holding the attention of an audience, and she was equally at home in pathos and comedy. Her negro dialect renditions were especially taking. She was repeatedly encored and met the appreciation shown very graciously.

Mrs. David Flournoy, Mr. Harry Gilbert, Mr. Robert Scott and Mr. Edwin J. Paxton were the coterie of local musical favorites that supported Miss Herndon most delightfully.

Miss McCandless of New York made a most favorable impression as a violinist and vocalist in this her debut before a Paducah audience. Judge E. W. Bagby's address at the close was especially happy and was marked by the ease and finish of this distinguished speaker.

Organ Recital Wednesday Afternoon.

Prof. C. A. Norvell, president of the Kentucky Western College, at Lone Oak, left this afternoon for Lone Oak to attend a meeting of the board of directors. The board will tonight outline plans for the next year's work and hope to increase the patronage of the school a great deal.

This term has been a very satisfactory one and the popularity of the college has steadily grown since established.

REASONED IT OUT.

And Found a Change in Food Put Him Right.

A man does not count as wasted the time he spends in thinking over his business, but he seems loth to give the same sort of careful attention to himself and to his health.

And yet his business would be worth little without good health to care for it. A business man tells how he did himself good by carefully thinking over his physical condition, investigating to find out what was needed, and then changing to the right food.

"For some years I had been bothered a great deal after meals. My food seemed to lay like lead in my stomach, producing heaviness and dulness and sometimes positive pain. Of course this rendered me more or less unfit for business and I made up my mind that something would have to be done.

"Reflection led me to the conclusion that over-eating, filling the stomach with indigestible food, was responsible for many of the ills that human flesh endures, and that I was punishing myself in that way—that was what was making me so dull, heavy and uncomfortable, and unfit for business after meals. I concluded to try Grape Nuts food to see what it could do for me.

"I have been using it for some months now, and am glad to say that it has given me entire relief. I do not suffer any longer after meals; my food seems to assimilate easily and perfectly, and to do the work for which it was intended. I have regained my normal weight, and find that business is a pleasure once more—can take more interest in it, and my mind is clearer and more alert."

LIBRARY BOARD.

Will Hold Its Regular Meeting This Evening.

The Carnegie library board will meet tonight in regular session, but nothing except the regular routine business, will come up for action.

The patronage of the library does not seem to decrease and has now become almost a necessity. The love for good literature has been aroused in many people by means of the library, who rarely ever read a book before, and children are taking a great deal of interest also.

It is probable that the matter of building some kind of substantial fence about the library to keep cows off, will be discussed. The yard was badly damaged and the officers of the board do not care to have the occurrence duplicated.

WILL GO INTO BUSINESS HERE.

SAVED BY D. D. D. Prescription

Tiffin, Ohio, February 10th, 1905.

D. D. D. Company. For over fifteen years I suffered with the Weeping Eczema of the hands. My hands were so swollen and painful I could not write at my desk. Once I wrote a letter. Night after night I picked the floor boards to sleep. I was in such a frenzied state I was on the verge of insanity and suicide. I tried all kinds of remedies and all kinds of doctors. Some told me to drink whisky, others to drink beer, others to find relief. I was ready to kill myself. After I had about given up in despair, Mr. J. H. Morcher advised me to try the D. D. D. Eczema Remedy. The first application gave me some relief. It perfectly relieved the itching and burning and I slept some at night. I continued faithfully its application until I used eight or nine bottles. I am now entirely cured, and never miss a day's work. I cannot tell you how grateful I feel.

THE LARGEST SHOPS FOUND IN PANAMA

Are in Charge of Carl A. Strom,
Formerly of Paducah.

He Was in the Local Draughting Department of the I. C. a Few Years Ago.

A N INTERESTING INTERVIEW

The chief mechanical engineer of the Panama commission is a former resident of Paducah. He is Mr. Carl A. Strom, and for several years he worked in the Illinois Central shops here. An intricate drawing he made during the first big Y. M. C. A. contest, still hangs on the walls of the local association. Mr. Strom now has charge of all the machinery on the isthmus.

Frank G. Carpenter, the noted journalist, who is now traveling in Panama, writes as follows of the big shops over which Mr. Strom presides, and of Mr. Strom himself:

Take a look at the biggest machine shop on the Isthmus of Panama. It is situated in the mountains, high up from the sea, half way between the Atlantic and Pacific. It covers acres and under its galvanized iron roof a network of wheels is humming away at the rate of a hundred revolutions a minute. The floor is covered with moving machinery and gangs of Americans and natives are at work. Here they are grinding old French locomotive wheels into new ones, there they are drilling holes through iron plates and bars and further on steel planers are shaving off iron as though it were wood. Traveling cranes moved from the roof, pick up steam engines and other enormous weights and carry them from one part of the shop to the other, while the foundries, adjoining, the boiling metal bubbles and seethes as it is carried from the furnaces by Jamaican and Colombian laborers who are making castings of more than a ton in weight. Outside the shop the ground is covered with acres of car wheels, iron dredge buckets and steel rails. The warehouses nearby contain more than a million dollars' worth of pumps, dredges and machine tools, and the whole is like one of the great industrial institutions of Pittsburgh or Chicago rather than a repair shop in the heart of the backwoods of the Isthmus of Panama.

Bas Matachin is the chief shop for the work at Culebra. It is where the old French material is being made in to new for use on the canal. There are other shops at Empire and there are also shops at Culebra itself, where the actual work of excavation is in progress. At Empire there are fully 15 acres of buildings and storage tracks, and there we have fifty locomotives, several hundred cranes and a vast number of dump cars. At Culebra one hundred mechanics are making light repairs on the 1,000 cars 30 locomotives, seven excavators and the new steam shovels which are working there. We have also big machine shops at Colon, on the Atlantic and some at La Boca, on the Pacific. We have a saw and planing mill running at Colon, making the lumber for the new buildings and blacksmith shops for the same purpose at Ancon, on the edge of Panama. Indeed, the man who thinks nothing is being done on the Isthmus has but to see these shops to learn his mistake.

I am here at Bas Matachin with Carl A. Strom, the mechanical engineer of the commission. He has charge of all the machinery of the Isthmus, and it is his duty to keep it in repair. The commission has told him to get what he can out of the French supplies and he is doing this with a corps of mechanical engineers, American foremen and a large number of native laborers. Mr. Strom is one of the strenuous young men of Uncle Sam's corps. He is about six feet in height, broad shouldered and muscular, and he looks as though he could defy malaria, yellow fever or any kind of hard work. He is a Swede, by birth, and was educated at the Royal Polytechnic Institute of Stockholm, one of the best engineering schools of the world. After his graduation there he came to the United States and learned the English language while acting as engineer for the Chesapeake and Ohio and Southwestern railway. When that road was merged in the Illinois Central he went with it, and soon became the mechanical engineer in chief of that system, with its enormous shops and 5,000 or 6,000 miles of track.

Said Mr. Strom:

"We found these shops in the jungle. We did not know they existed when I came here last June and it was only when Col. Hecker and I made a trip across the Isthmus that we discovered them. We had stopped at Gorgona, and, while moving about there, noticed the corner of this old building peering out of a dense vegetation. We made our way to it through a mass of car wheels, dumping buckets and other machinery.

"What kinds of work are you doing?" I asked.

The nice increase in our business since the first of the year is very encouraging to us.

JOHN S. LONG.

Dr. S. Weir Mitchell, the Great Neurologist, Warns Americans Who Neglect Their Nerves.

"In busy centers the number of deaths due to nervous causes has increased twenty per cent in forty years. One-fourth of the deaths in cities to-day are from nervous diseases."—Dr. S. Weir Mitchell.

The clean, rich nerve-force that was behind the health and happiness of thousands upon thousands is literally burning itself up like the dry wick of an empty lamp. It is the "Strenuous Life," with a vengeance.

Can men who go to their work in the morning tired and with lax spirits give to their own affairs the electric touch of confidence and power upon which success depends?

Can mothers worn out and nervous, plodding dully or ill-tempered through the routine of homekeeping, bring into the family life that precious spirit of hopefulness and happiness without which the word "home" seems a mockery?

When you feel exhausted—when you grow tired sooner than you should—when you lose patience with the irritating cares of daily life—when you feel discouraged—when you feel that your hopes and ambitions are not as high as they used to be—when you spend a sleepless night—when you get up almost as weary as when you went to bed—when you are worried.

These are all signs that your nerve forces are burning low.

Neglect the nerves and they will make you feel this neglect in many ways, they control all of the organs of the body and must be kept healthy and strong to do their work properly.—tired nerves cannot keep the organs of the body working in that harmony which is essential to real health.

This is why Paine's Celery Compound is able to bring health in so many different forms. Paine's Celery Compound feeds and nourishes the nerves. It makes new Nerve Force. It makes pure, rich blood, a clear active liver, a stomach that acts quietly and strongly upon all the food that is given to it, bowels that throw away promptly and surely all the ashes from life's engine room.

It makes the heart beat true and evenly, it makes the brain clear and vigorous.

The Nerve Force does this all, and Paine's Celery Compound makes the Nerve Force.

Best of all it makes that buoyant life-spirit, the thrill of health, that is the secret of happiness and the keynote of individual success.

Without Nerve Force there can be no health at all—no success—no joy in living.

John S. Long's case is simply one of thousands upon thousands. An average case and an object lesson to the average person.

"For nervousness and stomach trouble Paine's Celery Compound is the medicine. I was almost a physical wreck when I commenced to use Paine's Celery Compound, and now I am as healthy as any man in the world, and I owe it all to Paine's Celery Compound. The first bottle I took helped me wonderfully, and by the time the second was used I was a well man, and I can cheerfully recommend it to any one as being the best medicine I have ever used."

—John S. Long, Ballard, Wash.

Try Paine's Celery Compound to-day. It braces you up at once.

Take two days' treatment. See how much better you feel. See how much more easily the trials roll away.

For over 18 years Paine's Celery Compound has been the most universally used nerve vitalizer and tonic in the world.

Remember this—Paine's Celery Compound is the prescription of one of the most famous physicians this country has ever known, Prof. E. E. Phelps, of Dartmouth University. All reputable druggists recommend and sell Paine's Celery Compound.

erry, and found a structure covering about a half dozen acres, containing a complete equipment of machine tools for a big repair shop. There was not a thing lacking. All we had to do was to put new foundations under the machines, clean them up and start the stationary engines running. After that we began to clean up about the premises.

We had a gang of machine men cut down the jungle and clear out the vegetation about the buildings. It took us almost three weeks to do this and get the machines in running order. We then began to organize our force, and we now have a repair shop that I would not be ashamed to show to the mechanical engineers of any American railroad."

"What kinds of work are you doing?" I asked.

"Almost everything in the line of repairing," was the reply. "We have 300 men at work making general repairs upon locomotives and car equipments and all kinds of other machinery used in the canal work. Our capacity just now is seven locomotives and 115 cars per month. We have already repaired about 1,000 of the old French dump cars, and they are now in service at Culebra. Most of them were badly broken and rusted out. We renewed the timbers and replaced the missing parts. We repaired a number of locomotives, and now have between thirty and forty of them in use, and we have also been doing a great deal of fitting up of boilers, engines, concrete mixers and other things for the waterworks and sewer departments. We are repairing cranes, excavators, drills, dredges and all sorts of things."

MR. W. J. HARAHAN

PAYS PADUCAH A SHORT VISIT TODAY.

Has Heard Nothing Official About the Frisco Extensions That Are to Be Made in Kentucky.

Mr. W. J. Harahan, fourth vice-president of the I. C. railroad, arrived in Paducah this morning at 7:45 o'clock from the south in his private car, No. 1, and met local officials in conference this morning. He is en route to Louisville and will probably return by way of Paducah.

Mr. Harahan was once superintendent of the Louisville division, and takes a pride in going over it again, having been one of the first superintendents to build it up to its present standard of efficiency.

Mr. Harahan, in regard to the report that the Frisco was going to build into Paducah, said that he knew nothing about it except what he saw in the papers.

He also stated that if any contract had been made by the Frisco with the I. C. to use the latter's tracks from Paducah to Hopkinsville to connect with the Tennessee Central, he had not heard of it, and he thinks he would have heard of it if such a contract existed.

He did not state, however, that such a contract was impossible. In fact, it seems likely that it will soon be made, if it has not already been made.

The latest reports about the Frisco coming here are that it has not only made a contract with the I. C. to use its tracks from Paducah to Hopkinsville, but has also contracted for certain boats to do the transferring at Joppa from the Illinois to the Kentucky side of the river.

SIR HENRY MORGAN, BUCCANEER

By CYRUS TOWNSEND BRADY,
Author of "The Southerners," "For Love of Country," "The Grip of Honor," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY C. W. BILLINGHAM COMPANY

CHAPTER I.
HIS gracious majesty King Charles II. of England, in sportive—and acquisitive—mood, had made him a knight; but, as that merry monarch himself had said of another unworthy subject whom he had ennobled—his son, by the left hand—"God Almighty could not make him a gentleman!"

Yet, to the casual inspection, little or nothing appeared to be lacking to entitle him to all the consideration attendant upon that ancient degree. His attire, for instance, might be a year or two behind the fashion of England and still farther away from that of France, then, as now, the standard maker in dress, yet it represented the extreme of the mode in his majesty's fair island of Jamaica. That it was a trifl too vivid in its colors and too striking in its contrasts for the best taste at home possibly might be condoned by the richness of the material used and the prodigality of trimming which decorated it. Silk and satin from the orient, lace from Flanders, leather from Spain, with jewels from everywhere, marked him as a person entitled to some consideration at least. Even more compunctionary of attention, if not of respect, were his haughty, overbearing, satisfied manner, his look of command, the expression of authority in action he bore.

Quite in keeping with his gorgeous appearance was the richly furnished room in which he sat in autocratic isolation plumed hat on head, quaffing, as became a former brother of the coast and sometime buccaneer, amazing drafts of the fiery spirits of the island of which he happened to be, ad interim, the royal authority.

But it was his face which attested the sententiousness of the sneering observation of the unworthy giver of the royal accolade. No gentleman ever bore face like that. Framed in long, thin, gray curls which fell upon his shoulders after the fashion of the time, it was as cruel as evil, as sensuous, as ruthless, as powerful an old face as had ever looked over a bulwark at a sinking ship or viewed with indifference the ravaging of a devoted town. Courage there was, capacity in large measure, but not one trace of human kindness. Thin, lean, hawk-like, ruthless, cunning, weather beaten, it was sadly out of place in his brave attire in that vaulted chamber. It was the face of a man who ruled by terror, who commanded by might. It was the face of an adventurer, too, one never sure of his position, but always ready to fight for it and able to fight well. There was a watchful, alert, inquiring look in the fierce blue eyes, an intent, expectant expression in the craggy countenance, that told of the uncertainties of his assumptions; yet the lack of assurance was compensated for by the firm, resolute line of the mouth under the trifling upturned mustache, with its lips at the same time thin and sensual. And he was an old man too. Sixty odd years of vicious life, glossed over in the last two decades by an assumption of respectability, had swept over the gray hairs, which evoked no reverence.

There was a heavy frown on his face on that summer evening in the year of our Lord 1655. The childless wife whom he had taken for his betterment and her worsening some ten years since—in succession to Satan only knew how many nameless, unrecognized precursors—had died a few moments before in the chamber above his head. Fairly bought from a needy father, she had been a cloak to lend him a certain respectability when he settled down, red with the blood of thousands whom he had slain and rich with the treasure of cities that he had wasted, to enjoy the evening of his life. Like all who are used for such purposes, she knew after a little space the man over whom the mantle of her reputation had been flung. She had rejoiced at the near approach of that death for which she had been longing almost since her wedding day. That she had shrunk from him in the very articles of dissolution when he stood by her bedside indicated the character of the relationship.

To witness death and to cause it had been the habit of this man. He marked it in her case, as in others, with absolute indifference—he cared so little for her that he did not even feel relief at her going—yet because he was the governor of Jamaica (really he was only the vice governor, but between the departure of the royal governor and the arrival of another he held supreme power) he had been forced to keep himself close on the day his wife died by that public opinion to which he was indifferent, but which he could not entirely defy. Consequently he had not been on the strand at Port Royal when the Mary Rose, frigate, fresh from England, had dropped anchor in the harbor after her weary voyage across the great sea. He did not even yet know of her arrival, and therefore the incoming governor had not been welcomed by the man who sat temporarily, as he had in several preceding interregnum, in the seats of the mighty.

However, everybody else on the island had welcomed him with joy, for of all men who had ever held office in Jamaica Sir Henry Morgan, sometime the chief devil of those nefarious bands who disguised their piracy under the specious title of buccaneering, was the most detested. But because of the fortunate demise of Lady Morgan, as it turned out, Sir Henry was not present to greet My Lord Carlingford, who was to supersede him—and more.

The deep potations the old buccaneer had indulged in to all outward intent passed harmlessly down his lean and craggy throat. He drank alone—the more solitary the drinker the more dangerous the man—yet the room had another occupant, a tall, brazen, brown hued, grim faced savage, whose gaudy livery ill accorded with his stern and ruthless visage. He stood by the vice governor, watchful, attentive and silent, imperturbably filling again and again the goblet from which he drank.

"More rum," said the master, at last breaking the silence while lifting his tall glass toward the man. "Scuttle me, Black Dog," he added, smiling sardonically at the silent maroon who poured again with steady hand. "You are the only soul on this island who doesn't fear me. That woman above yonder, curse her, shuddered away from me as I looked at her dying. But your hand is steady. You and old Ben Hornigold are the only ones who don't shrink back, hey, Carib? Is it love or hate?" he mused, as the man made no answer. "More," he cried, again lifting the glass which he had instantly drained.

But the maroon, instead of pouring, bent his head toward the window, listened a moment and then turned and lifted a warning hand. The soft breeze of the evening, laden with the fragrance of the tropics, swept up from the river and wafted to the vice governor's ears the sound of hoof beats on the hard, dry road. With senses keenly alert he also listened. There were a number of them—a troop possibly. They were drawing nearer; they were coming toward his house, the summer house near Spanish Town, far up on the mountain side, where he sought relief from the enervating heat of the lower land.

"Horsemen!" he cried. "Coming to the house! Many of them! Ah, they dismount! Go to the door, Carib."

But before the maroon could obey they heard steps on the porch. Some one entered the hall. The door of the drawing room was abruptly thrown open and two men in the uniform of the English army, with the distinguishing marks of the governor's guard at Jamaica, unceremoniously entered the room. They were fully armed. One of them, the second, had drawn his sword and held a cocked pistol in the other hand. The first, whose weapons were still in their sheaths, carried a long official paper with a portentous seal dangling from it. Both were booted and spurred and dusty from riding and both, contrary to the custom and etiquette of the island, kept their plumed hats on their heads.

"Sir Henry Morgan"—began the bearer of the paper.

"By your leave, gentleman," interrupted Morgan, with an imperious wave of his hand, "Lieutenant Hawker and Ensign Bradley or my guard, I believe. You will uncover at once and apologize for having entered so unceremoniously."

As he spoke the governor rose to his feet and stood by the table, his right hand unconsciously resting upon the heavy glass flagon of rum. He towered above the other two men as he stood there transfusing them with his resentful glance, his brow heavy with threat and anger. But the two soldiers made no movement toward complying with the admonition of their sometime superior.

"Dye hear me?" he cried, stepping forward, reddening with rage at their apparent contumacy. "And bethink ye, sirs, had best address me, who stand in the place of the king's majesty, as 'your excellency,' or I'll have you broke, knaves."

"We need no lessons in manners from you, Sir Henry Morgan," cried Hawker, angry in turn to be so brow beaten, though yesterday he would have taken it mildly enough. "And know by this, sir," lifting the paper, "that you are no longer governor of this island and can claim respect from no one."

"What do you mean?"

"The Mary Rose frigate arrived this morning, bringing Lord Carlingford as his majesty's new governor and this order of arrest."

"Arrest? For whom?"
"For one Sir Henry Morgan."
"For what, pray?"
"Well, sir, for murder, theft, treason—the catalogue fills the paper. You are to be dispatched to England to await the king's pleasure. I am sent by Lord Carlingford to fetch you to the jail at Port Royal."

"You seem to find it a pleasant task."

"By heaven, I do, sir!" cried the soldier fiercely. "I am a gentleman born of the proudest family in the Old Dominion, and have been forced to bow and scrape and endure your insults and commands, you bloody villain, but now!"

"Tis no part of a soldier's duty, sir, to insult a prisoner," interrupted Morgan, not without a certain dignity. He had been forced to keep himself close on the day his wife died by that public opinion to which he was indifferent, but which he could not entirely defy. Consequently he had not been on the strand at Port Royal when the Mary Rose, frigate, fresh from England, had dropped anchor in the harbor after her weary voyage across the great sea. He did not even yet know of her arrival, and therefore the incoming governor had not been welcomed by the man who sat temporarily, as he had in several preceding interregnum, in the seats of the mighty.

However, everybody else on the island had welcomed him with joy, for of all men who had ever held office in Jamaica Sir Henry Morgan, sometime the chief devil of those nefarious bands who disguised their piracy under the specious title of buccaneering, was the most detested. But because of the fortunate demise of Lady Morgan, as it turned out, Sir Henry was not present to greet My Lord Carlingford, who was to supersede him—and more.

"Stop! The Mary Rose brings the news that King Charles II. is dead and there reigns in his stead his gracious majesty King James. How I do not go with you?"

"You have ten minutes in which to decide, sir," answered Hawker.

"Ten minutes?"

"Then if I don't bring you forth the men of yonder troop will come in without further order. Eh, Bradley?"

"Quite so, Sir Henry," answered the younger man. "And every avenue of escape is guarded. Yield you, sir. Be he me, there's naught else."

"I have ten minutes then," said the old man reflectively. "Ten minutes. H'm."

"You may have," answered the captain curtly. "If you choose to take so long. And I warn you," he added, smiling sardonically at the silent maroon who poured again with steady hand, "you are the only soul on this island who doesn't fear me. That woman above yonder, curse her, shuddered away from me as I looked at her dying. But your hand is steady. You and old Ben Hornigold are the only ones who don't shrink back, hey, Carib? "You may have," answered the captain curtly. "If you choose to take so long. And I warn you," he added, smiling sardonically at the silent maroon who poured again with steady hand, "that you'd best make use of that time to bid farewell to Lady Morgan or give other order for the charge of your affairs, for 'twill be a long time, I take it, before you are back here again."

"Lady Morgan is dead, gentlemen, in the room above."

VERY MUCH ALIVE

IS THE NEW BOARD OF HEALTH HERE.

Meets Tonight and Asks That All Complaints of Bad Sanitation Be Reported.

Dr. J. W. Pendley, president of the board of health, was in a pleasant mood this morning.

"We feel gratified that the council and the public in general, you might say," he explained, "takes such an interest in sanitary affairs and has shown an inclination to aid the board in its efforts to clean and keep clean the city of Paducah. We feel that our pains have been in a measure rewarded by the confidence placed in the board by the fact that the council has placed control of sanitary inspectors in our hands. We will hold a meeting tonight and outline work for these inspectors, and will personally see that our plans are carried out to the letter."

It seems that this board of health is alive and means business. The board will outline plans for the improvement of sanitation generally and will also pass several resolutions, the nature of which have not been made public. The board will meet whenever necessary and will appreciate any complaint of nuisances, etc., sent in, and give them immediate attention.

A Number of Professors Will Get Benefit of $10,000,000 Carnegie Fund.

Louisville, Ky., May 2.—The professors of several Kentucky colleges will be eligible to pensions from the $10,000,000 fund given by Andrew Carnegie. Among the institutions which come within the conditions made by Mr. Carnegie are: Kentucky University, Lexington; the State Agricultural College, Lexington; Georgetown College, Georgetown; Bethel College, Russellville; Central University, Danville; Science Hill Academy, Shelbyville, and Berea College, Berea.

The professors of the theological seminaries will be compelled to save from their salaries for a rainy day. The Rev. Dr. E. Y. Mullins, president of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, said there was no way clear to him for professors in this class of schools to share in Mr. Carnegie's gift. Still, he said, Chicago University is under the control of the Baptist church, and is eligible.

Dr. Mullins said the characters of schools could be changed where necessary to conform to Mr. Carnegie's requirements.

Prof. R. P. Halleck, of the Male High school, said he thought Mr. Carnegie's pension fund was one of the grandest ideas of the age and would have the effect of raising the already high standing of American college professors.

She explained that her son was a son by her first husband and was 16 years old. Board Ordered to Proceed and Borrow Money---Council Proceedings.

The councilmanic board met in regular session last night with Councilmen Gilson and Taylor absent.

A report from Inspector Watkins, of the bond company, on City Treasurer John Dorian's office, was made. He reported the office in the best possible condition.

The ordinance committee was instructed to bring in an ordinance increasing the salary of sanitary officers from $40 to $50 per month. The matter of changing the location of the sanitary garbage dump was also brought up. It was ordered that the dump be removed from the foot of Clay street to the I. C. incline. Agent John Donovan, of the I. C., protested against its being moved near the incline, but no action was taken other than to file the protest. The other garbage dump for debris from stores was located at the old gravel pit near the Durrett slaughter house on North Sixth street.

Mr. S. A. Fowler was given permission to furnish a room at Riverside hospital in the name of heirs of the late Reuben Saunders, of which he is one.

The board gave City Clerk Henry Bailey an assistant for this month at $75 to aid him in preparing the city tax bills by June 1st.

The ordinance committee was ordered to bring in an ordinance exempting a hollow near the Thompson stock yards from the city limits as far as pistol shooting is concerned. The Paducah Pistol and Rifle Target club wants to establish a range in the hollow.

The public improvement committee was ordered to paint, renovate and make what repairs are necessary at the city hall.

Mayor Yeiser was directed to borrow what money is necessary to run the city until the June collections are in.

The board allowed $300 towards the fund being made up by cities along the Ohio river from Pittsburgh to Cairo to defray the expense of the national rivers and harbors committee which will shortly come down the Ohio.

The fire committee was instructed to get a signed document from the insurance underwriters board certifying that the Paducah wire inspector's work will be recognized by the companies. The board will provide such an officer but does not want some other inspector to come after the local inspector has passed on a case, and order still more changes.

The treasurer's monthly report for April was received and filed. It showed on hand April 1st, $150,920.37; collected during the month $3,043.33; expenditures $15,713.38, leaving a balance of $138,249.39.

All accounts, salaries, etc., against the city were allowed.

A report from Auditor Alex Kirkland showing he had bought in delinquent tax bills for the city was filed. The total sale of delinquent taxes amounts to $3,142.57.

The Southwestern Kentucky Medical society was granted permission to meet in the council chamber when it holds its meeting here next week.

In the matter of allowing $100 a month to aid the Commercial club in boozing the city, the finance committee reported no money had been appropriated. The request was con-
